Let Boyer & Ritter help you quantify that value through comprehensive business valuation services. Knowing the value of your business helps you understand its strengths and weaknesses, prepare for transitions or identify areas that can add further value to the enterprise.

The services of the B&R Forensic, Valuation, and Litigation Services Group are of particular value in preparing for key transitions such as buying or selling a business interest, transferring stock within the company or for gift tax and estate tax filings with the IRS. Valuation services are also essential when a business is in litigation.

Effective business valuation often relies upon data unique to that sector, and B&R's in-depth expertise in a wide range of industries offers significant benefits in developing a precise picture of your company's value. With in-house expertise in more than ten industry segments—from automotive dealerships to construction, and from manufacturing to real estate—B&R applies significant and in-depth knowledge to the valuation of your enterprise.

The B&R Advantage, our firm's unique approach to each client engagement, means that we can rapidly bring together resources within the firm as well as additional expertise through our membership in the McGladrey Alliance. As a result, we will be able to not only develop an accurate picture of your business today, but help you plan for next steps into the future.

Our team holds professional designations such as Certified Valuation Analyst (CVA), as recognized by the National Association of Certified Valuation Analysts (NACVA), and Accredited in Business Valuation (ABV), as granted by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA). Continuing professional education, technical training, and a constant review of new trends and developments in the valuation sector are the foundation of our successful business valuation services and are one reason why our valuation reports consistently withstand the scrutiny of third parties.
